1_Materiali / Materials

Memory foam: it adapts to body shape, which ensures an appropriate support to both the sleeper's spine and her weight.

Comfort foam: it is made of fully elastic and anatomical material, which adapts to body shape and evenly distributes weight – thus providing relief from stress, excessive loads, and muscular tensions.

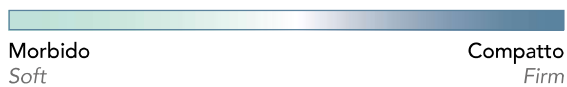

Independent springs: pocket spring mattresses are regarded as the evolution of the renowned orthopaedic coil spring mattresses and, as such, they represent the optimal choice for those who would rather sleep on a mattress devoid of rigid elements. They display a remarkable ergonomic coefficient.

Bonnell springs: these mattresses feature traditional coils that allow for a good internal airflow, as well as satisfactory support (especially for robust individuals). Bonnell springs are spiral-shaped and assembled with crushproof steel.

2_Portanza / Firmness

Firmness defines the degree of rigidity, i.e. how solid the mattress is. The higher the firmness, the stiffer the mattress. It is recommended that sleepers with heavier builds choose harder mattresses, whereas those with an average or light build shall opt for a medium degree product. It is also advisable for aged individuals to sleep on softer and more comfortable mattresses, so to avoid excessive pressure on critical points such as shoulders or hips. Moreover, no matter firmness and body shape, good mattresses should always respect the natural "S" curve of the human spinal column – i.e. its cervical and thoracic curvature.

3_Rivestimenti / Upholsteries

Nature 3D

It's a fabric that represents perfect harmony between Nature and modern technology. Linen and cotton fibres are perfectly with special techno-fibres which provide the best possible resistance to bacteria, dust mites and static electricity.

Silver 3D

Extra-thick fabric. The silver ion treatment used for the Silver Fresh 3D fabric neutralizes the microbes which form unpleasant odours, preventing the growth of bacteria; it regulates body temperature by radiating the heat to the exterior, and eliminates static electricity.

Aloe essential / Aloe 3D

Aloe is world-famous for its many medicinal properties. It is regenerative, purifying, analgesic and antiinflammatory. The fabric used for the lining is treated with millions of microcapsules of Aloe Vera. When the skin rubs against the surface of the mattress, the microcapsules release 75 beneficial substances to give a pleasing moisturizing sensation and an anti-stress and revitalizing feeling of comfort.
